Yellow warning
Thunderstorm

Between 13:00 Sun 14 Jun 2020 and
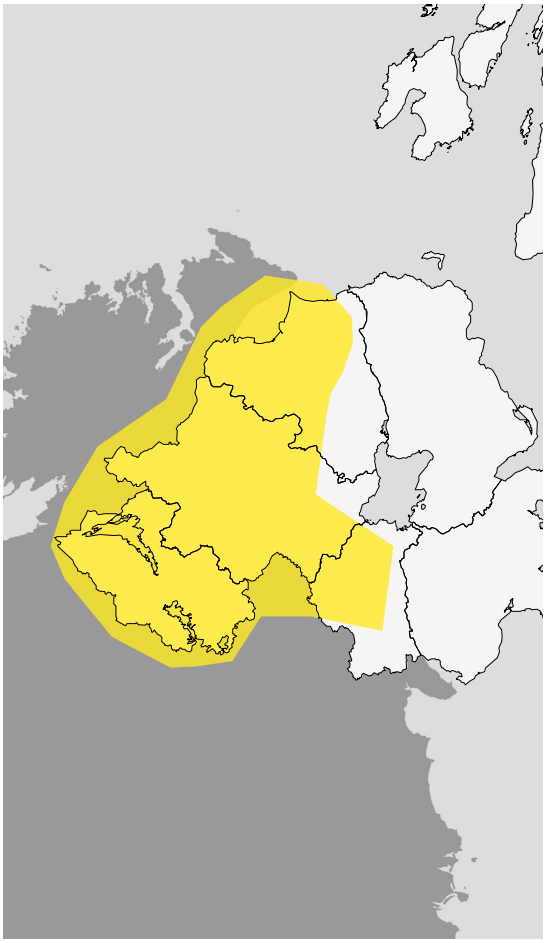
21:00 Sun 14 Jun 2020



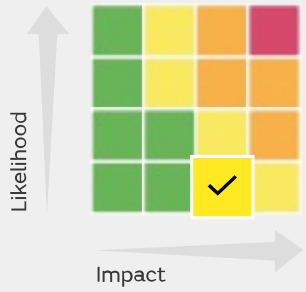
Thunderstorms expected to form over parts of Northern Ireland this afternoon

What to expect

- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded quickly, with damage to some buildings from floodwater, lightning strikes, hail or strong winds
- There is a slight chance that power cuts could occur and other services to some homes and businesses could be lost
- There is a small chance that some communities become cut off by flooded roads
- Where flooding or lightning strikes occur, there is a chance of delays and some cancellations to train and bus services
- Spray and sudden flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures

Further details

Whilst some areas will remain dry, thunderstorms are expected to form parts of western and southern Northern Ireland this afternoon. Where thunderstorms occur, torrential downpours are possible with potential for 20-30 mm of rain in an hour or two. Frequent lightning, hail and gusty winds are also possible. Thunderstorms will then gradually die out this evening, perhaps most slowly in the south.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
